

Dear donors,

In these difficult days, with the spread of the Coronavirus disease around the world, efforts are required from everybody to change their lifestyles. It's complicated for some, very hard for others: between concerns for loved ones and grief over the loss of a loved one.

However, we should not forget the war in Syria, where the increasing number of residents and refugees are also affected by the Covid-19.

Swiss-Group and all its team would like to let you know of their support and wish to be by your side during this period of crisis, hoping that it will further encourage solidarity between people.
